Based on the belief that the health of our employees is an indispensable foundation for the growth and development of the company, we actively participate in annual initiatives such as regular health checkups for all employees, cancer screenings (all expenses paid by the company), and participation in health walks.

In addition, for smokers, the company offers special leave to visit a smoking cessation clinic and partially pays for the cost of a smoking cessation clinic to raise health awareness among employees and help them maintain and promote their physical and mental health.
